

Earthenware Mark E5

A fairly common impressed mark, with DAVENPORT in an arc over an anchor, used on early transfer printed and enamelled earthenwares. Its use may have continued into the 1860s.

Mark

Impressed

Date

c1815-1835+

Frequency

fairly common

The significance of the numerical superscript (often missing) is not clear.

